Information Architecture

Establishing a solid information architecture is the key to a successful SharePoint project, regardless of the type (web content management, enterprise content management, etc.). Over the years I've learned a lot about this from my good friend and fellow MVP Ruven Gotz.

Ruven has done more to promote how to gather and build a solid IA from the business than anyone else in the SharePoint space. His book Practical SharePoint 2010 Information Architecture is an excellent resource, regardless of what version of SharePoint you are using. I also recommend checking out Ruven's blog at <http://spinsiders.com/ruveng/>.

One of the tools that Ruven introduced me to that all of our Senior Consultants at Envision IT use now is MindJet's MindManager (now just called MindJet). It is a great tool for brainstorming and information planning and organizing. It is not focused on the presentation details of the information, but rather just capturing the ideas and the relationships between them.

For our Envision Shakespeare Company site, we have started to flesh out the information architecture, along with some of the feature and term store ideas. Joe did most of the work on this, and I've included both the PDF and MindJet versions of the files for you to see.

Huron Perth CAS announces closure

On October 5, 2010, Huron Perth CAS took the unprecedented decision to wind down its operations, effective December 15, 2010.

The agency, geographically located in the Stratford area, operates on a budget of approximately $17.5 million and is currently dealing with a deficit of $1.3 million this fiscal year and is carrying forward an accumulated debt from previous years in the amount of $870,000.

This afternoon, I had the opportunity to listen in on a Press Conference held by the Huron Perth CAS, wherein the President of the Board and the Executive Director, outlined the future of the agency.

All 125 staff will be issued lay-off/termination notices on October 15, 2010. At the present time, the agency has enough money to maintain services until the middle of December 2010.

A meeting is scheduled with the Minister of Children and Youth Services on Friday morning of this week, to discuss options available to ensure that mandated child welfare services can continue to be offered to the 200 children in care and the over 400 families served by this organization.

Video provides a powerful way to help you prove your point. When you click Online Video, you can paste in the embed code for the video you want to add. You can also type a keyword to search online for the video that best fits your document.

To make your document look professional, Word provides header, footer, cover page, and text box designs that complement each other. For example, you can add a matching cover page, header, and sidebar. Click Insert and then choose the elements you want from the different galleries.

Themes and styles also help keep your document coordinated. When you click Design and choose a new Theme, the pictures, charts, and SmartArt graphics change to match your new theme. When you apply styles, your headings change to match the new theme.

"Save time in Word with new buttons that show up where you need them. To change the way a picture fits in your document, click it and a button for layout options appears next to it. When you work on a table, click where you want to add a row or a column, and then click the plus sign."

Reading is easier, too, in the new Reading view. You can collapse parts of the document and focus on the text you want. If you need to stop reading before you reach the end, Word remembers where you left off - even on another device.
